The 6th International Conference on Organ Donation after Circulatory Death will take place on 7-9 February, 2013 in Paris. While in line with previous symposia on Non Heart Beating Donation held over the last years in London, the current edition has been conceived with a novel interactive approach. In particular, the meeting will be combined with an on-going initiative focused on the development of European recommendations on relevant aspects covering donation and transplantation from both controlled and uncontrolled DCD, including best practices and protocols. Drafted recommendations prepared by dedicated experts will be presented for discussion during specific congress sessions. The meeting will represent a unique forum for exchanging practices, sharing experiences and knowledge and for discussing on areas of current debate in DCD. The combination of the two types of initiatives will certainly promote DCD as a way of increasing organ availability, while improving quality and safety aspects on the transplantation of organs from this source.
